Man held for molesting students at college gate

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
MUMBAI, JULY 30

A MAN was arrested last week for allegedly molesting students outside a college in the city.

The matter came to light after one of the students approached the police. In her complaint, the 23-year-old student had alleged that around 8.30 am on July 24, when she was approaching the rear gate of the college, a man riding a cycle slowed down near her, groped her and sped off.

The student notified the college authorities and registered a complaint with the police the next day. The police scanned CCTV footage of the area and found that a few minutes after molesting the student, the cyclist had groped another woman at the college gate.

On July 26, the man was arrested by policemen in plain-clothes who were stationed at the college gate.

He was identified as Mohammad Nabi Hussain Shaikh. A police officer said that Shaikh works in a factory in Malad West.

Inquiries with the college principal revealed that Shaikh had groped a 19-year-old student at the same spot on July 22. He was produced in court, which remanded him to police custody till August 1.

In 4 years, Mumbai's largest veterinary hospital records 48% rise in cattle admission

TABASSUM
BARNAGARWALA
MUMBAI, JULY 30

SINCE 2015, when the state BJP-led government prohibited the slaughter of cow progeny, the largest veterinary hospital in the city, Bai Sakarbai Dinshaw Petit Hospital for Animals in Parel, has recorded a steady increase in the number of cows, bullocks and calves being admitted.

The hospital is constantly on a lookout for shelter homes, as most available are filled to their capacity. In a month, the hospital receives about 15 abandoned cattle.

"Previously, these animals used to be brought in by owners or the hospital used to rescue cattle following complaints from the public. Nowadays, organisations involved in saving cows, such as Bajrang Dal, Gowrakshak Samiti and others, bring the animals," said Dr J C Khanna, the hospital medical superintendent.

In 2015, following a presidential nod, the state had banned the slaughter of bulls, bullocks and oxen through an amendment to the Maharashtra Animal Preservation Act, 1976. The slaughter of cows and calves was already prohibited. With the ban, a huge market of bull's meat was affected. Farmers, who earlier sold their non-productive cattle to slaughterhouses, were forced to abandon them.

Data accessed by The Indian Express shows in 2015 — the first year of the ban — 102 cows, bulls, calves and bullocks were admitted in the hospital. The figure rose to 126 in 2016, 142 in 2017 and 151 in 2018. The rise in admissions has been 48 per cent in these four years.

Till July 15 this year, 68 cows, 32 calves and 12 bulls and bullocks have been rescued and admitted in the hospital.

Hospital caretakers claimed while some cattle are abandoned by their owners, in most cases, cows, calves and bulls are rescued by gau rakshaks from slaughter. "The NGOs bring them here after getting a case registered with police," Khanna said.

With no home to return to, the hospital has 53 such animals in its permanent shelter. It has also constructed a new shelter for cows and bulls after their numbers escalated.

The prevailing issue now is the rehabilitation of abandoned cattle. Jayesh Shah, founder of NGO Shree Aadi Jin Yuvak Trust, which provides relief material for abandoned cattle, said there are 70 to 75 old age homes for cattle, called Panjarpoles, between Virar, Kalyan and Mumbai. "But all are full. When a shelter home refuses to admit a cow, it is taken to the hospital," he added.

Experts said the state needs to set up more shelter homes. "We are also noticing high rates of abandonment of cattle because farmers can no longer afford fodder," Shah said.

Dr Yogesh Shetye, general manager at Deonar abattoir, said that while the BMC can fine an owner for letting cattle stay in public areas, it cannot do anything about abandoned cattle. "The government has built shelters for them," he said.

Auto driver held for 'masturbating' while ferrying female passenger

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
MUMBAI, JULY 30

A 33-YEAR-OLD autorickshaw driver was arrested in Kandivali for allegedly masturbating while ferrying a female passenger on Monday night.

After reaching her destination, the woman told her friend about the incident, who in turn tweeted to the Mumbai Police. The police then reached out to the friend.

Police said the woman, who is 20 years old, was initially hesitant to register a complaint, but after a woman sub-inspector visited her home to record her statement, she said she had hailed an autorickshaw outside a railway station.

While en route, the driver, Sandeep Shukla, allegedly stared at the woman in his rearview mirror and began to masturbate while driving.

Dilip Sawant, Additional Commissioner of Police, North Region, said police used CCTV footage to identify the autorickshaw and tracked Shukla down to his home in Hanuman Nagar slum colony in Kandivali East, from where he was arrested early Tuesday morning.

Shukla was booked for committing molestation and obscenity under the Indian Penal Code. "We will now write to the Regional Transport Office and ask for his driving license to be scrapped," said Sawant.
